

Announcement:

Subcon China 2009 will be postponed!

Subcon China 2009 (China Industrial Subcontracting & Outsourcing Fair 2009) originally was scheduled to be held on November 4th -6th. Considering the potential risk of H1N1 flu, we therefore announce the fair to be postponed to April 20th -22nd, 2010 at Chongqing Exhibition Center, Chongqing, China.

Infected cases of H1N1 have continually increased all over the world while approaching autumn, and fearfully the number of death rises as well. To prevent the public from the risk of being infected, and also to consider the impacts on exhibitors' performances, it is better to postpone the date for exhibition.

After we cautiously evaluate the condition of entire impact on the exhibition and the possible trend of H1N1, we decide to postpone the exhibition date of Subcon China 2009 to April 20th -22nd, 2010 at Chongqing Exhibition Center, Chongqing, China.
